PREFACE

INDEX TO FAIRY TALES, MYTHS AND LEGENDS

The increased use of the story hour in work with children and the ever-widening use of fables and myths in school work have shown the need of an index which would save time by indicating at a glance the source of an asked-for story. When eight out of ten versions of a myth are given in their respective books under different titles bearing little or no resemblance to the one sought for, when each new translator or compiler may give an entire set of new titles to old favorites, mechanical aid is necessary to save reason as well as time.

This index includes, besides fairy tales and fables, the stories from Greek and Norse mythology which seemed most likely to be called for, also hero stories and some modern stories like the "Leak in the dyke," which are not strictly fairy tale or legend but which are constantly asked for by teachers and story tellers.

Since inquiries for stories are mainly by title this is first of all a title index. When the same story appears under various titles, it is indexed under the best known or under the one that seemed most descriptive of the story, and references are made from all the other titles. The title as contained in each particular book, when differing from the one under which it is indexed, is given in parenthesis at the end of the entry. In the case of mythology and hero stories the titles have been inverted, or invented if necessary, in order to bring the entry under the name of the character. When a book contains a number of stories about the same person but bearing different titles, a general reference to the book is given; when two only, but not in direct sequence, the titles are given in parenthesis at the end of the entry.

The cross references from one story to another are intended to aid story tellers by suggesting similar stories in case the one wished for is not obtainable. The cross references from subjects—holidays, stars, flowers, etc.—

are intended to aid in identifying stories when the inquirer has forgotten the title and asks for the story by subject or contents. It was hoped to make more of this feature, but time and space forbade

Since the different editions of Grimm, Andersen and Æsop vary so much, not only in the stories included but also in the titles given them, a number of editions were indexed giving as complete a collection as possible of the author's work in editions suitable for libraries. The edition as well as the variation of title, if there be any, is given in parenthesis at the end of the entry.

Where two editions of the same work, not exactly alike as to contents, are indexed, no note of the edition is made in the entry of titles which are in both editions; note of the edition is made only in the entry of those which are contained in one of the editions and not in the other. To distinguish editions the name of the editor, compiler, translator or publisher is used in parenthesis after the entry and preceding the variant title, if there be one; a publisher's name is followed by ed. for edition, as Burt ed., Warne ed.

Paging is not given, as editions differ in paging even when the contents are exactly the same. The use of the exact title which the story bears in any particular book, either as the main entry or in parenthesis at the end of the entry, makes it easier to locate the title in the table of contents of the book indexed; but it is unfortunate that so many otherwise up-to-date collections of children's stories still have the cumbersome unalphabeted table of contents instead of an index.

Authors' initials are not given except when there are several of the same surname. In the case of the Langs, however, only the initials of Mrs. Lang have been used.

Roman numerals are used for two purposes, — to distinguish different stories having the same titles, and to bring together stories on the same theme instead of referring from one to the other; for instance, Why the sea is salt. I, II, III, and IV instead of Why the sea is salt. See also Magic coffee mill; Quern at the bottom of the sea.

The star (*) is used to mark versions suitable for small children.

Grateful acknowledgment is made to the various members of the staff of the Wilmington Institute Free Library who helped in the work of compiling and preparing for publication, especially to the Children's Librarian, Miss Katharine H. Wead, who compiled the entries for Norse mythology and who worked untiringly on the verifying and systematizing of entries. Indeed without the help rendered by the library it would have been impossible to complete this index. Much assistance has also been given by the children's department of the Philadelphia Free Library.

The generosity of the various publishers in loaning books not otherwise accessible has done much to make this index possible, and thanks are due them for their unfailing courtesy in response to requests.

The compiler acknowledges indebtedness to the following lists which have been of valuable assistance in compiling this index: Finding list of fairy tales, published by the Boston Public Library, which was the model for this index and which has been incorporated with it; Helps to the study of mythology, by D'Ooge; Stories from the Greek myths, published by the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, which furnished the basis of the mythology entries. Miss Haight's Fairy tale index, published in the Bulletin of Bibliography, has also been incorporated in this index.

The most complete bibliography of this subject.

2. THE PRACTICAL USE OF BOOKS AND LIBRARIES,
1914 an elementary manual. By Gilbert O. Ward. 110 pages with index. Library Buckram, $1.00.
Recommended as useful by the A. L. A. Book-list.
New and enlarged edition. The changes are so many that all owners of the 1911 edition will need this new and up-to-date book.

3. TEACHING OUTLINE. (To accompany No. 2 above.)
1911 44 pages, paper, $.50.
Suggestive and helpful directions for a teacher, or librarian giving instruction in "use of books."

4. MODERN DRAMA AND OPERA, a reading list (anno-
1911 tated) on thirteen of the more prominent authors. 96 pages, with index. Cloth, $1.00.
This has an important annotated general section on "Modern Drama."
(See No. 13, Modern Drama and Opera, Vol. 2, which contains, in addition to many new lists, the continuation of these to 1915.)

5. ABBREVIATIONS AND TECHNICAL TERMS USED
1912 IN BOOK CATALOGS AND BIBLIOGRAPHIES. By Frank K. Walter. (Covers English, French, German, Italian, Latin, Dutch, Spanish, Swedish, Danish-Norwegian, with a chapter on Honorary Titles and on Places of Publication.) xi + 167 pages. Cloth, $1.50.
(See No. 14, which is a supplemental and complementary book.)

6. LITERARY ANNUALS AND GIFT BOOKS, American
1912 and English. A bibliography. By Frederick W. Faxon. xxix + 140 pages, with chronological index, and descriptive introduction. Half cloth, gilt top, $2.50. Only 150 copies printed. Nearly out of print.

THE USEFUL REFERENCE SERIES

(Prices are special net, no discount to libraries, and include delivery.)

8. THE PUBLIC LIBRARY MOVEMENT IN THE
1913 UNITED STATES, 1853–93. By Samuel Swett Green. 336 pages with index, and portrait of author. Cloth. $2.25.

This book shows the progress from year to year of the public library; it gives the history of the American Library Association to 1893, and has many sketches of early librarians. A book of absorbing interest to all librarians.

9. LAW, LEGISLATIVE AND MUNICIPAL REFER-
1914 ENCE LIBRARIES, an introductory manual and bibliographical guide. By John B. Kaiser. 467 pages with full appendix and index. Cloth. $4.00.

This work treats very fully the scope, materials and methods of the three classes of special libraries described. It is a source-book for students of State and Municipal Government. It covers a new field of library development and there is no other book on the subject.

10. GLOSSARY OF LIBRARY TERMS in English, Danish,
1915 Dutch, French, German, Italian, Spanish and Swedish. By Axel Moth. 68 pages, paper, 75c.

Part one gives the English term, with definition, followed by synonyms in each of the other seven languages. The second part gives an alphabetical list of the terms under each language, with the English equivalent.

11. LIST OF SERIES AND SEQUELS FOR JUVENILE
1915 READERS. By Katharine H. Wead. 51 pages, paper, $.50.

An index to the Juvenile Books which have been published in series, or have had sequels. Arranged by authors, with an index to series at the end. Spaces are provided for additions and notes. Invaluable for children's librarians.

12. INSTRUCTION IN THE USE OF BOOKS AND LIBRA-
1915 RIES; a text-book for Normal Schools and Colleges, by Lucy E. Fay and Anne T. Eaton, of the University of Tennessee Library. 449 pages, 17 illustrations, and 53 figures. Cloth $2.25.

In three parts, this book shows very thoroughly and concisely the development of the book, the use of books, and of libraries, especially in work with children. It also covers the technical field of classification, cataloging, etc., as found necessary in the administration of the school library. A book of value to all small libraries, and necessary wherever children's work is done.

13. MODERN DRAMA AND OPERA, VOLUME 2, with
1915 an introduction by Archibald Henderson: "The Drama in America." Reading lists on Barker, Björnson, Brieux, Chekhov, D'Annunzio, Échegaray, Fitch, Galsworthy, Gorki, Hervieu, Hauptmann, Ibsen, Jones, Maeterlinck, Phillips, Pinero, Rostand, Schnitzler, Shaw, Strindberg, Sudermann, Synge, Tolstoi, Wilde, Yeats; also Humperdinck, Leoncavallo, Mascagni, Massenet, Saint-Saëns, Debussy, Puccini, and Strauss. Cloth, 255 pages. $2.00.

While consisting largely of new bibliographies, this volume also brings down to date the volume of same title, published in 1911 (see No. 4). It is annotated and has a title-index to the plays covered (some 675 in all). The most complete work on this subject yet compiled.

14. TECHNICAL TERMS USED IN BIBLIOGRAPHIES
1915 AND BY THE BOOK AND PRINTING TRADES. By Axel Moth. Cloth, vii + 263 pages, $2.25.

This is a supplement to Walter's Abbreviations and Technical Terms (see No. 5), in that it omits all terms given in that book. But this volume covers a much broader field — including terms used by bibliographers, booksellers, publishers, book manufacturers, printers, paper-makers, engravers, binders — in English, Danish, Dutch, French, German, Italian, Latin, Spanish, Swedish. The English chapter gives definitions of terms and the synonym in each of the other eight languages; the chapters under each language enable one instantly to get the English meaning of any foreign term.

15. INDEX TO FAIRY TALES. By Mary H. Eastman of the 1915 Wilmington (Delaware) Institute Free Library. Cloth, 350 pages, $2.25. (Published in September, 1915.)

This index analyzes 488 books of Fairy Tales, giving the stories in one alphabet with title of book in which they appear. By cross references, and parenthetical titles the variant names for the same story are brought out. A list of all the books indexed is added. (This is an entirely new compilation, and contains some four times as many entries as the Index published in Bulletin of Bibliography.)

(Prices are special net, no discount to libraries, delivery extra.)

MAGAZINE SUBJECT-INDEX

Volume 1 and Annuals, 1908 to date.
(Uniformly bound in olive Library Buckram.)

This is a Subject-Index to articles in some 150 different periodicals which are not included in the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature and which were not in Poole's Index. Since the discontinuance of Poole, The Magazine Subject Index has included many of the periodicals formerly covered by Poole, and so is a continuation of that Index.

The Magazine Subject-Index covers all State Historical Society Collections and Quarterlies, and all historical periodicals generally. It also aims to cover thoroughly the fields of Geography, Exploration, Mountaineering; many entries will be found pertaining to Fine Arts, Architecture, Outdoor Life, Forestry, Gardening, etc.

Twenty-eight British and 8 Canadian periodicals are included.

The Magazine Subject-Index is therefore a general index to all subjects, but is especially strong on those mentioned above.

It is to be used as a supplement to Reader's Guide, and a continuation of Poole's Index.

(See Dramatic Index also.)
Vol. 1. Indexing sets to end of 1907, (only sold with full sets.)
Annual, 1908. $3.00.

(Each includes, as Part II, The Dramatic Index.)
Annuals, 1912, 1913, 1914. Each, $7.00.
(Each includes, as Part II, The Dramatic Index, and has as Appendix a List of Published Plays and Dramatic Books of the year.)

☞ Complete set of the 8 volumes, uniformly bound in olive Library Buckram, $39.00.

THE DRAMATIC INDEX

Bound in Library Buckram, at $3.50 a volume net, delivery extra. Annual volumes published about March first.

Indexing all articles and illustrations of a Dramatic nature in the periodical press of America and England, this index, if known to library workers, will be of inestimable value. It also answers, without outside reference, many questions, such as who is author of a certain play, what plays are by a given author; full names, birth dates of players and dramatists.
